"THE GREY MASK"

"Blood Heritage" is a splendid feature offering at the Star theater today in which a selected cast of Universal photoplayers is seen. The story deals in thrilling situations. "Saved by a Cent," a Powers comedy, is also shown.

Tuesday, "In Search of a Wife," a two-part comedy drama, will be a feature offering.

Carroll McComas is to become a moving picture star.

James K. Hackett and George C. Tyler have formed a producing firm to be known as Hackett and Tyler. Their first production will be that of a romantic comedy by Brandon Tynan, in which the author will enact the leading role.

In the three weeks of opera by the Metropolitan Opera Company Marie Rappold sung seven times in New York, three times in Philadelphia, twice in Brooklyn, once in Boston and at concerts in Jersey City, Plainfield and at New York musicals. Her friends have named her "Busy Marie."

Dustin Farnum, who has just finished a hunting trip in the Maine woods, has returned to the Pallas Pictures studios in Los Angeles and is now at work upon his third subject for this concern, an adaptation of the late Will Hillbridge's well known book, "Ben Blair," under the direction of W. D. Taylor.

Jay Hunt, one of the best known American producers of motion pictures, this week began work at the Universal City studios as director of Murdock McQuarrie. For the last seven months McQuarrie has been directing his own work. He found, however, that the strain of acting and directing was telling too heavily on him and he asked for a director.

HAZEL DAWN IS STAR AT THE GRAND TODAY

She Appears in Famous Play-ers Photoplay of "The Masqueraders."

The story of the Famous Players Film Company's photo-adaptation of Henry Arthur Jones' notable play, in a tensely dramatic situation, in mingling of comedy and drama. A gay and delightful girl auctions off a kiss for charity, tires of life at an inn and marries a wealthy man, only to find that he is a drunkard and a rogue. Trial and tribulation follows rapidly upon each other, culminating Scene from "The Masqueraders," Today's Feature Offering at the Robinson Grand.

"The Masqueraders" which is appearing on the Paramount program at the Robinson Grand today, with the delightful Hazel Dawn in the leading role, is of the most thrilling kind. In "The Masqueraders" Mr. Jones, the noted English playwright, has achieved the impossible in the co-which her husband actually stakes her at cards against the fortunes of another man who loves her. Tomorrow Rolfe Photoplays Inc. will present the popular and accomplished actress, Valli Valli in "The Woman Pays," a powerful photodrama adapted for the screen by Harry Chandler.

The Triangle offering today at the Bijou is "The Martyrs of the Alamo," exactly the kind of thing that can be done better on the screen than on the speaking stage, and it is mounted with

Ora Carew in the leading parts. This program will run two days. As a special attraction this week only, the Palace management has the painstaking attention to history, customs and character that is always a big feature in Griffith successes. Edison said, "Give me a motion picture machine and I'll teach you more history in fifteen minutes than instructors and textbooks can drill into the minds of pupils in a month," and this is certainly true of "The Martyrs of the Alamo." Aside from the fact that the picture is educational, it is sensation-ally entertaining as well.

"Saved by Wireless," a Keystone comedy in two acts is also on the bill with Chester Conklin, Mark Swain and made arrangements for a special show including four vaudeville acts and motion pictures with daily matinees and two performances in the evening. Some of the very best actors have been arranged for, including the Clarice musical artists, the Trogan duo novelty act, Earl Dayton in singing and talking, and Danny White in dancing, talking and comedy.

World Film Corporation presents the five-part photoplay "The Grey Mask" based on a story of the same name by Charles Wadsworth Camp which ap-

Hockey Becoming Most Popular Winter Sport

Many Leagues Being Formed and Championship Games Will Be Played.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Riding on the crest of the present skating boom, hockey appears destined to become the premier winter sport throughout the country, where either natural or artificial ice is available for the game. The installation of artificial rinks in the leading eastern and southern cities has greatly increased interest in the game in these sections while in the north and northwest, where low temperature can be counted upon to provide ice several months each year, hockey is more popular than ever before.

This is due in part to the prominence given the sport by the colleges during the last few seasons. Hockey is now considered the major sport of the winter months at a number of the leading eastern and western universities. The schedules of the teams are constantly increasing in length and importance of games and the players, as they graduated from college continue to play for clubs either amateur or professional. International contests between the leading teams of United States and Canadian colleges or clubs no longer excite special comment, although the interest in the result is keener than ever. Sectional, city and intercity leagues are common and there is talk of reviving the famous international professional league, which was in existence for several years and was finally abandoned because of the long jumps between the cities. According to the present plan there will be three divisions to the league. It is proposed to group Calumet, Houghton, Michigan Soo, St. Paul and Minneapolis in the western section; Detroit and Cleveland as the nucleus of the central division while teams may be placed in Pittsburgh, Boston, Providence, New Haven and New York, forming an eastern section. It has been suggested that the winning team in each section play a round robin tournament at the end of the season for the championship of the United States, the ultimate victor to meet the best Canadian combination for the championship of the continent.

TENNIS CHAMPION

Defeated by Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, Former Woman Champion.

Although Mrs. May Sutton Bundy was not ranked among the women tennis players of the country for the season of 1915, owing to insufficient data, there is no question regarding her ability to wield a racket in championship form. The former American and international title holder has just completed a remarkable exhibition of her power to come back after several seasons of court inactivity, by defeating Miss Molla Bjurstedt in a series of three
